Attending the Summit

The Net Zero APAC Summit will bring together the Net Zero ecosystem across industries to push boundaries on the decarbonisation pursuit. Participants will:

Explore the strategic implications of a low-carbon economy

Receive inspiration and practical, actionable advice to develop and advance their own Net Zero strategies

Delve into different different approaches taken to advance towards Net Zero across industry verticals, and at the policy level

Understand the role of next-gen technologies in decarbonisation and resource efficiency

Promote interactions and collaborations across industry verticals to identify new ideas and trial new solutions that work
